In 1997, I was diagnosed with cancer. I was interested in exercising God's healing powers and I was fortunate to meet Lavonne.

She started praying for me and asked me to put my hands up. I started to lower them and a still small voice said, "You stay here until I am finished with you." I put them back up and began to feel a tingling in the palms of my hands. This sensation moved from my hands at the pace of cold molasses down my arms and throughout my body. This experience lasted about 20 minutes. When it was completed, I believed that the cancer was gone.

Two weeks later I was scheduled for the fourth tissue sampling. As I was laying on the examination table, I said to the nurse, "Will this be it then, I am so tired of all these tests." The nurse said to me, "Will this be it, whatever do you mean?" She held up the stack of papers that claimed to show that they had already found cancer. "It's there; we just need to know how much is there." I actually laughed to myself thinking, I would share this in my testimony. Two weeks later, the test showed no cancer. I have had follow-up tests since and there is no cancer in my body.
